

Frankfurt School of Finance & Management is one of Europe's leading business schools, accredited by AACSB, EQUIS and AMBA, and we invite applications for a tenure-track faculty position as

Assistant Professor of Business Analytics – Tenure track

As we continue to grow, we are looking for a colleague who can demonstrate research and teaching excellence in business analytics, regardless of the area of specialization. We explicitly encourage international applications. German language skills are not required at Frankfurt School.

The Technology & Operations Area at Frankfurt School focuses on high-end research in the areas of Operations Research, Analytics applied to Operations, Information Systems, and Technology Management. Our faculty apply rigorous analytic and empirical methods to address important business problems across a wide range of domains including supply chain management, manufacturing and service operations, innovation management, revenue management, and healthcare. Members of the Technology & Operations Area publish regularly in outlets such as Management Science, Operations Research, MSOM and POM, and engage frequently with business leaders through teaching and consulting. For more information about the Technology & Operations Area, please visit <https://www.frankfurt-school.de/en/home/research/departments/management>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in a relevant field (management science, engineering, computer science, decision science, information systems, among others) from an accredited institution, and demonstrate outstanding research potential. The ideal candidate further shows potential for teaching excellence and is expected to contribute to Frankfurt School's teaching portfolio in the areas of Business Analytics, Operations, and Technology Management. Frankfurt School offers attractive teaching loads for incoming research-active faculty to support their research agendas.

We offer a modern campus facility and a stimulating research environment with attractive research funding and all the opportunities of a vibrant private business school. The cosmopolitan city of Frankfurt is ranked 7th worldwide in the last Mercer "Quality of Living" Ranking.

Applications will be assessed on a rolling basis and candidates who submit their application package by October 8, 2023, will be given priority and considered for an interview during the annual INFORMS conference. All applications must be received by November 15, 2023. Please submit your application including a cover letter, CV, three letters of reference, three papers (published or unpublished), and a record of teaching experience (taught courses and evaluations) via Interfolio following this link, <http://apply.interfolio.com/131619>. The start date for the position is July/August 2024.

Frankfurt School of Finance & Management values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds. We are particularly interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching and/or service will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community. The Frankfurt School is an equal opportunities employer.
